To Advertisers.—The Vermont Daily Transcript has the largest circulation in St. Albans and in Franklin County, of any daily paper, and is on that account, if no other, the best medium for advertising.

Local Items.

Interesting matter, original or selected, may always be found on the first page.

REMEMBER THE Grand Concert at Academy Hall. Those who fail to attend, will miss a good treat, which comes only when our really excellent home talent is exerted.

MR. PROCTOR'S CONCERT.—It rained last night, but the rain did not prevent a fair audience from greeting the second representation of Paroni's operetta, "The Twin Sisters." As was the case on the first night, we were unable to be present, but we are satisfied that the concerts have been musically and financially successful. Those who were present do not need to have any description of the good things there enjoyed, and those who were not do not deserve one.

WE would remind our readers that Dr. Rarcey commences his Lectures this afternoon at the American House, and continue for one week. Those interested in horses should attend the Doctor's Lectures. Particular attention paid to shoeing, trotting, livery and fancy horses.

CHECK LIST OF VOTERS.—The Legislature, last fall, passed an act requiring all towns and cities in which five hundred or more votes may have been cast for town representative, to make check lists of voters without petition. It is to be hoped that the proper authorities of St. Albans will have the list of this town posted up as soon as practicable.

FIRE.—About 12 o'clock last night the screeches of the car shops' whistle and the ringing of bells sounded the alarm of fire and necessarily awoke our citizens from their slumbers. It was soon discovered that the dwelling-house on Ferris Avenue, owned by Mr. L. M. Downing, and occupied until within a few days by Mr. A. Moussette, was in flames. Our fire companies were promptly on hand and at work with their machines; but in vain. The fire had altogether the advantage of them, as also of the rain which was falling fast. The building was soon burned to the ground, and the fire companies and the "lookers-on" retired to their respective quarters.

The fire was evidently the work of an incendiary, but as yet, we believe, no suspicion rests on any person. Mr. Downing's loss is from $1,200 to $1,500; insured in the Vt. Mutual for $800.

INTERESTING STORY.—The Messenger last evening commenced the publication of an interesting story entitled, Agnes Percey; or the Rival Heirs of Abbotswold. It will be "concluded" in this evening's number when its "excited" reader will be informed that "the above is all of this interesting story that will be published in our columns. For the continuation of it from where it leaves off here, see the New York Ledger, which is for sale at all the book-stores and news depots throughout the country."

In an item on dancing yesterday the following sentence, which was never written, appeared:

"If men and women were machines, intended to run through the world in grooves, with no systematic varieties of body," etc.

What we wrote was this: "If men and women were machines, intended to run through the world in grooves, with no systematic variations," etc.

PLYLE'S LEMONISED SUGAR is an excellent preparation for making pure lemonade without the use of lemons or sugar. Lewis Brothers, on Lake street, have it for sale at 35 cents a bottle.

THE COLLISION.—An inquest was held Friday morning at Burlington by Justice Hollenbeck upon the body of Capt. Charles Blair of the canal boat W. W. Wright, who was killed in the collision with the steamer United States Thursday night. From the testimony of Capt. Babbitt, Purser Blake and Pilot John L. Eldridge, it appeared that the canal boat when struck by the steamer, was turned under her guards and the wheel worked the whole length of her. Blair must have been killed by the wheel-boats as they passed over the wreck. The canal boat displayed no lights as the law requires, though the night was dark. Justice Hollenbeck therefore adjudged that the collision resulted solely from the carelessness of the crew of the Wright and that there was no fault or negligence on the part of the officers of the United States.

Mt. Mansfield.

EDITORS TRANSCRIPT:

Conscious of the truth of the old saying that "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy" I recently arranged for a pleasure trip among the mountains. We are all going, like the merchandise under the auctioneer's hammer, somewhere. Some to the Mineral Springs in this county, others to Saratoga, some to the sea-shores and others to distant mountains; but, the grandest excursion of all, it seems to me, is where one can snuff the nose of old Mansfield. When we go to see the sights, we should go where sights are to be seen. It is not always when we go the longest journey that we see the most. Many people residing within one day's journey of Mansfield, have never been there, but, perhaps, have visited Saratoga or some other place upon the level, often. I am not opposed to Saratoga but advocate home interests and home productions. It is hardly honorable in any one to strive to rise above the average of men; and to be elevated upon the pinnacles of Mansfield Mountain the promotion is supreme. This eminence is within the reach of every one. There is entire satisfaction in looking away over the low-lands and the people that dwell therein; of Governors, Judges, Senators and Congressmen, and feel that you are above them all. I am glad that Vermont owns a mountain, which will stand as a monument of our greatness—up and down for ever.

Having returned in safety, and being satisfied that others might so return if they desired to do so, I wish to speak of my line of trade. The stages leave Essex Junction every morning and evening on the arrival of the cars, for Underhill Centre eleven miles away. From Underhill Centre, the distance is five miles to the top of the mountain, where teams are in constant readiness to take parties to the "half-way house," which is a little more than a mile below the summit. Saddle horses can always be found in readiness at the half-way house at a moment's notice, under the guidance of the Mountaineer "Lex" Mead to carry parties to the top of the mountain. Bonaparte's March over the Alps is immortalized in music, and might have always been regarded a great affair, had this route of travel remained undiscovered. It remains for Fremont to take the artillery on the backs of his mules up this mountain, if the thing should ever become necessary.

A trip up this side, must be of far greater interest than to take the route from Stowe. The idea is to view with your own eyes the beauties of the scenery spread out in the distance. From this side is to be seen the Adirondack Mountains, Lake Champlain together with rivers, cities and villages in rich profusion. Higher up we go and the grandeur of the scene increases as we advance. When we have arrived safely on the Apex, where we surely will if we take this route and "Lex" for our guide, we will meet the highest liver in Vermont in the person of Mr. Caldwell who keeps the Summit House. It is worth something to see him under the circumstances and a seat at his table is refreshing. And then the hotel is so retired, and is such a nice place to rest, one seldom goes there without enjoying it. There is no runaway wagons nor railroad cars to disturb us; isn't it delightful.—Let us rest. PORCUPINE.

Important Action of Horicon No. 3.

At a meeting of the Horicon Hose No. 3, held at Fireman's Hall, Monday evening, July 13th, 1868, the following resolutions were passed:

Resolved.—That we tender our sincere thanks to the St. Albans Fire Department for the kind and courteous treatment shown us while attending their tournament on the 4th instant.

That to Foreman Sawyer, and Assistant, and Secretary Sawyer, and the gentlemen, mainly members of Washington Engine Co. No. 1, we tender our thanks for the more than brotherly attentions shown us while their guests, with the assurance that should we ever meet, (at home or abroad) we will try and reciprocate a part of the many attentions paid us that day.

Finally, to the citizens, who through the officers of the Fire Department, forced us to accept of the second Prize of Fifty Dollars, we return our thanks and assure you the same has been daily spent to the health of Nos. 1 and 2 and the citizens of St. Albans.

After passing a vote of censure on the officers of the Engine, for their poor management of the company for the past two years; also, for defeating it at Rutland, Vt., July 4th, 1867, and preventing the boys from taking the machine to St. Albans, July 4th, 1868, the Hose Company, in number, presented their resignations, never to run with the machine under the management of its present officers.

WANTED.—An Agent to make a thorough canvass of Franklin County in behalf of that old and reliable Life Insurance Company.

LENT'S NEW YORK CIRCUS.—On Monday next this long expected equestrian troupe will arrive in St. Albans and exhibit—afternoon and evening—on the usual location. The following notice, from the Providence Herald, will give the reader an idea of what the performances will be:

"The New York Circus gave exhibitions yesterday, and more than maintained the high reputation which it has always enjoyed. The performances were more varied and interesting than ever before, and comprised many new features of the most striking character. Mlle. Rolland won hosts of admirers by her dashing style of equestrianism upon a bare-backed steed, and Robert Stelney executed some of the most extraordinary feats of horsemanship ever witnessed. The General Brothers were excellent in their gymnastic exercises and in their comic scenes; they are artists in every sense of the word. The funnels family and the Niveo family are finished and artistic as ever, while the vaulting is even better than it was last year. Little George Durov, the baby hunter, never fails to excite storms of applause. The Arabian trick horse Alexander is a model of equine beauty, and is as intelligent as he is beautiful. Taken altogether, the entertainments given by the New York Circus, the present season, surpass anything of the kind previously witnessed here, and are especially noticeable for the unusual amount of novelty infused into the performances."

THIRD ANNUAL TOUR

GREAT METROPOLITAN INSTITUTION

Deposited during the greater portion of the year a splendid Iron Edition in the City of New York, which is well known throughout the country as the Leading Circus of America

And which, the present season, with its

NEW AND MAGNIFICENT FEATURES,

Searchers presented in America, will be enabled to obtain the most complete and original and exciting entertainment for suppers and parties witnessed on the Atlantic. The public appreciation of the performances given by the New York Circus, not only in the City of New York, but also during its former travels, has stimulated the management to renewed exertions, and it is confidently asserted as the power of contradiction, not only that the performances of the Circus during its present tour will be equal superior to any ever given in this country.

And that the company is in all respects

THE BEST IN THE WORLD!

And being in equestrian establishment in all

Europe, comprising all the first-class artists, or so many entirely novel and startlingly effective specialties as this, First season in America of

"THE CAROLINE ROLLAND," the famous Equestrienne, who surpasses the most daring feats accomplished by other riders on a post, upon a horse without saddle or bridle. This extraordinary feat was accomplished in England at enormous expense by an agent sent for the purpose of securing the best rider in Europe, and only arrived in this country in April. Her astounding performance, upon a Bare-Back Steed, threw into the shade all previous displays of feminine Equestrianism such as in the United States are not excepted in any exhibition in Europe or America, included in the brilliant array of
